Budget Setting – why is it so important?

- Sets the basis for service delivery over the next year
- Includes budget cuts
- Needs to meet statutory obligations first
- Revenue, Capital & Reserves
- Forms the level of Council Tax
- Needs to be accountable to Members and the public

Budget Setting – roles

- The role of Administration
- The role of Officers
- The role of Opposition
  - Effective challenge – to Members and Officers
  - Scrutiny
  - To hold to account
  - Provide an alternative budget

How to prepare and deliver an alternative budget proposal

- Consider the Administration Budget
- Involve all group members
- What are your priorities?
- Consider your options
- Formulate your costings
- Register your budget amendments
- Publicity & Communications

- *Consider the Administration Budget

- What are the weaknesses?
- Does it all stack up?
- Does it reflect the priorities of residents?
- Is there scope for increased savings on specific items?
- Effective Challenge - again!

- Involve all group members

- Use the expertise of all members and keep them updated
- Avoid a 'closed shop' approach – Listen!
- Where appropriate, keep it confidential
- What about working with other opposition groups or members?
- What do you consider your priorities?
  - Draw up a long list
  - Consult
  - Draw up a short list

TOP-TIP BE REALISTIC

- Consider your options

- Are they deliverable?
- What are the strengths and weaknesses?
- What are the service implications/risks?
- What are the political implications/risks?
- Would it gain support from other opposition groups?
- Where would the Administration find fault?
- Invest to Save?
- Capital Programme
- Commercialisation
- Make it balance?

- Formulate your Costings

- Consult with Director of Finance
- It needs to pass the 'robustness' test
- Are there ongoing costs?
- Are there redundancy costs?
- Calculate pay-back for investment to save
- What are the financial risks?

- Register your budget amendments

- Make sure you adhere to the timetable
- Involve all group members again!
- Check with Director of Finance before submitting
- Start working on your presentation for Budget Council!

Register Now

- Publicity & Communications

- Communications are all important!
- Who will see this? Who do you want to see this?
- Organise press releases
- Prepare your speeches!
- Give advance copies of your budget speech to press
- Follow up afterwards

“By failing to prepare, you are preparing to fail.”

Benjamin Franklin

A plan!

- *Questions, questions, questions

- How robust is scrutiny, do you receive regular briefings and regular oversight of budget reports and projected spends and pressures?
- Are you effective in undertaking financial scrutiny and how good are you at Audit?
- How robust are you at actually questioning and challenging?
- What about policy decisions? Do you undertake impact assessments? Are they delivering the expected outcomes, is there an overspend or perhaps a revenue deficit that needs reviewing.
- What conversations are you having with your partners?
- And finally how sound are your communications skills and active responses to public negativity, which will be inevitable when services are cut, changed or lost as a consequence?
